TEAM NAUTIQUE ATHLETES VOLUNTEER THEIR TIME TO HELP TERMINALLY ILL CHILDREN

Orlando, FLA (September 17, 2008) – Yesterday professional ski athletes representing the premium Nautique boat manufacturer, Correct Craft, and several company employees spent time serving children with life-threatening illnesses at leading non-profit organization, Give Kids The World.

While at Give Kids The World, Team Nautique athletes and employees played with children including operating a carousel and serving ice cream. Athletes also signed autographs for the children and allowed them the opportunity to experience the 2009 Ski Nautique 196 firsthand.

Correct Craft's President/CEO Bill Yeargin commented, "We believe it is extremely important to give back to our local community and are continually looking for opportunities in which to do so. Next month our wakeboarding athletes are scheduled to help Habitat for Humanity build a home for a less fortunate family here in Orlando. I am incredibly happy to be a part of a team that is not only committed to building the world's best boats, but also committed to helping others in their community."
