NASA ASTRONAUT VISITS NAUTIQUE

ORLANDO, FLA (September 3, 2010) — Nautique recently had a visit from Charles “Scorch” Hobaugh, a NASA space shuttle astronaut. Scorch is an avid waterskier and longtime Nautique owner.

During Scorch’s visit to Nautique, he attended a luncheon with President/CEO Bill Yeargin, Team Nautique skier Chris Parrish and Chris’s father Mike. Afterward, he met with the Product Development team followed by a factory tour.

“It was an exciting day to have a visit from a Nautique customer like Scorch, who took the time to meet with our product development team, share his life experiences and tour our facility,” stated Nautique President/CEO Bill Yeargin. “Scorch was impressed with not only our facility and processes but the incredible camaraderie and forward thinking mindset he observed among our team,” Yeargin added.
